

Superintendent,

The first week of school has ended in fine fashion and as our enrollment continues to grow, we once more welcome new families and friends into our school community. For me personally it is always a pleasure to chat with people each morning as the school day begins and an even greater pleasure to tour our classrooms and see our fabulous

