

Letter from the Superintendent – Bridget Davies

Dear KAS Community,

I hope you have had a lovely week.

We are celebrating the arrival of more vaccines against COVID-19 to Sudan. As we continue to plan and hope for a return to more 'normal' practice here on campus we see high levels of vaccination as vital.

As age restrictions have been lifted on vaccination, we are working to increase the percentage of adults vaccinated on campus and those living or working in their households.

Thank you to those parents who have informed us if their children were vaccinated during the summer vacation. We will now be asking parents, via Survey Monkey, to share with us your vaccination status. This information is politely requested in order for us to ascertain the level of protection we have as a community via vaccination. Please be assured that personal medical information will not be shared, and we are interested in the percentage of community members vaccinated.

I thank you in advance for your support. If you do have any questions or concerns please do feel free to contact me via email.

Best wishes,

Bridget Davies

Saying of the week

In the Bag is a phrase used to describe something of an absolute certain outcome. Since the beginning of the English parliament tradition has it that all petitions brought before the House of Commons, which had a successful outcome, would be placed by the Speaker in a large velvet bag hung from the back of the Speaker's chair. Therefore politicians, or reporters, describing a petition as 'in the bag' would be confirming its favorable outcome. The bag, although now only symbolic, still hangs behind the Speaker's chair.
